

Equality & Diversity Policy

Protest ES Limited is an equal opportunity employer and this statement details our policy of equality and diversity in recruitment and employment and the manner in which this policy will be implemented and monitored.

Statement of policy

Protest ES Limited is committed to a policy of equality of opportunity in its recruitment and employment practices. It is our policy to ensure that all employees are recruited, trained and promoted on the basis of ability, the requirements of the job, and similar objectives and relevant criteria. No applicant for employment or employee will be treated less favourably than another on grounds of race, gender, marital status, nationality ethnic or national origin, colour, creed, disabilities, age within the legal limitations, or because they are Lesbians or gay men.

Selection criteria and procedures will be kept under review to ensure that individuals will be selected, promoted and treated on the basis of their abilities, merits and according to the requirements of the job; they will be given equal opportunity to show this ability and, where appropriate, special training to progress within the company.

We will not tolerate discriminatory language or behaviour towards our employees or customers. Acts of discrimination, harassment, bullying or victimisation are disciplinary offences which we will deal with under our disciplinary procedure

Race or Racial Origin - Shall mean discrimination on grounds of race, colour, nationality, ethnic or national origins.

Persons with Disabilities - Shall mean discrimination against any person who has a disability whether or not this impairs normal functions.

Legislation

Protest ES Limited recognises and welcomes the Equal Pay Act 1970, The Sex Discrimination 1975 (Amended 2003), Race Relations (Amendment) 2003, Human Rights 1998, Employment 2002, Employment Equality Religion or Belief Regulations 2003, Employment Equality Age 2006, Civil Partnership Act 2004, The Disability Discrimination 1995 and the measures for disabled persons and their attempts to provide equal opportunities for all.

This policy statement deals only with the employment aspects of that legislation.

Protest ES Limited will provide all necessary training to ensure that its Managers are familiar with and understand the legislative provision of equal opportunities, and not only direct discrimination, but also indirect discrimination is unlawful.

Both the Equal Opportunities Commission and the Commission for Racial Equality have issued codes of Practice which contain practical guidance to assist in the elimination of discrimination and the promotion of equal opportunity in employment.

Implications of legislation

In respect of race and gender, there are laws which provide that an employer is responsible for any act of discrimination by an employee in pursuit, of his/her employment whether or not it was done with the employer's knowledge or approval. In such cases, both the employer and employee are liable to the unlawful act. However, it would be a defence for an employer to prove that he/she took such steps as were reasonably practical to prevent the employee from committing a discriminatory act. Only the employee would then be considered liable for the unlawful act.

A failure on the part of the employees to observe any provisions of the codes of practice shall not in itself render them liable to any proceedings but such failures will be taken into account in Industrial Tribunal hearings.

It is the duty of all employees to accept this personal responsibility for the practical application of the policy.

Protest ES Limited expects all its employees to act at all times in accordance with this equality and diversity policy. All employees are required to comply with and promote the policy and to ensure that discrimination is eliminated in the working environment.

Protest ES Ltd.'s objective is to maintain operational standards so that all its employees and employment applicants are treated equally, irrespective of race, sex, sexual orientation, religion, disability, age, gender reassignment, marital status or ethnic origin.

Procedures

All personnel policies and procedures are kept under constant review to ensure that they conform to the equality and diversity policies.

- Any language difficulties will be overcome with the use of an interpreter where required.
- Recruitment, promotion, training, development and redundancy shall be determined on capability and merit only.
- All employees have personal responsibility for the practical application of this Policy, which applies to the treatment of customers, suppliers and the general public as well as to fellow employees.
- Any Director or employee that is involved in recruitment, promotion or training has specific responsibility for the practical application of this Equal Opportunity Policy.

- If there is any doubt about the terms of this Policy or the application thereof an employee should consult the Health and Safety Director.

Training

Protest ES Limited recognises that training is an essential element in the implementation of its Equality and Diversity Policy. Without the provision of adequate training, it will be difficult to ensure that the employees and particularly its managers are in a position to understand and comply fully with the policy.

It is our policy that all employees undertake induction training in which we make them aware of their responsibilities under the Health and Safety at Work Act, detail our emergency procedures, and correct use of PPE, safe systems of work for their initial job, First Aid arrangements and the role of our supervisors. They are all advised where copies of our Health and Safety Policy are kept and are given a copy of our company rules.

Where employee's jobs change or new risks are encountered by the introduction of new processes then these individual employees are given further guidance/training.

Advice/Guidance
